

BETTER ENGLISH DRIVE CONTINUES

How Slang Reacts Against Job Seekers Told By Employer

"Better English Week," is meeting encouraging success in the schools of Ogden, according to Superintendent W. Karl Hopkins. Programs in all of the schools are being held, aiming to improve the everyday English of the students. The third letter of a series issued by the committee in charge, follows:

Nov. 2.
Dear Patron:
Do not worry about the results of the election. Let us not forget our "Better English Week."
The manager of a large department store in the east, where more than 3000 employees work, is reported to have said recently:

"It has been my experience in employing girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 18 that they are rejected on account of not being able to use good language, using slang instead. They are unable to read, to write and spell well enough. The first thing I consider are appearance, speech, neatness, and spelling. If these qualifications are lacking, they are rejected, even if I am in need of their services."

It is evident from this that good English has a real cash value. The use of good English calls for the use of it.

It was she who did it, instead of it was her who done it.
She taught me, instead of I taught her.
The boy fell from his wheel, instead of, The boy fell off of his wheel.
I ought not to have went, instead of, I hadn't ought to have went.
He is angry at me, instead of, He is mad at me.
I ought not to have gone, instead of, I would of done it.
Haven't any, instead of, Ain't got any.
Between you and me, instead of, Between you and I.
It is ours, instead of, It is ourn.
It looks well, instead of, It looks fine.

A little supervision and help on the part of the parent in the use of correct language forms will prove a wonderful help in fixing good language habits.

Very sincerely yours,
TEACHER.

VOTING HEAVY IN EVERY DISTRICT

Morning Rush Indicates Large Vote to Be Registered Here

According to information received up to noon today, voting has been unusually heavy in most districts and it is indicated that a record vote will be cast in Ogden when the polls close tonight at 7 o'clock.

An early rush of voters came in most districts and continued until 9 o'clock when it became lighter. The early morning rush was composed mostly of workers who cast their ballot before proceeding to their places of employment. One district had received five votes at 7:15 o'clock and a line of twelve persons was waiting.

Reports came from various parts of the city that in many polling places the number of voting booths were not sufficient and there was not one to every fifty voters as prescribed by law. W. D. Clear, deputy clerk who is directing the election from the county clerk's office said the county was short many booths and the only solution to the problem was to keep the polls open after 7 o'clock to take care of all voters. He said that where crowds were waiting to vote at this hour, it would be necessary to receive their ballot after the designated hour.

The work was reported as proceeding smoothly, although at an early hour there was a mixup of judges in some districts. Some did not appear promptly and the voters were compelled to wait for their arrival at the polls.

COL. BAXTER RETURNS EAST

Ordnance Officer Inspects Work At Ogden Arsenal

Colonel C. R. Baxter of the ordnance department of the United States army, who inspected the site of the Ogden arsenal last week, has departed for his headquarters at Washington.

Colonel Baxter spent the greater part of last week conferring with local business men on the possibilities of storing ordnance at the arsenal. The possibilities of the arsenal also becoming the site for one of the landing fields for army planes will be discussed during the present week with the arrival of two men from Washington to inspect the proposed field.

NEXT YEAR'S STYLES SHOWN IN FILM

For the woman who follows with close interest all the changes of styles from month to month, "You Never Can Tell" should prove an exceptionally entertaining motion picture. It is the initial Bebe Daniels starring vehicle for Republic and will be shown at the Alhambra theatre for three days beginning Thursday.

One of the biggest features of the offering is a magnificent fashion show in which gorgeously attired mannequins parade in the lobby of a big New York hotel. Absolutely new creations are shown, things which will not appear in the market until the spring of 1921.

This "advance style" presentation was made possible by special arrangement with one of the big Parisian houses. For the first time in the history of motion pictures the inland cities of America will see late fashions displayed just as they are in the ateliers of New York.

Needless to say, Miss Daniels is exquisite in the gowns she wears as a mannequin. The scene is an important one in this story of a poor little check-room girl who nearly gets into trouble trying to be a vamp before a true love for a "Trivial Charming" brings her real happiness. "You Never Can Tell" is an excellent vehicle for the "good little bad type" in which the star is at her best.

Handsome Jack Mather heads a splendid cast which also includes Neely Edwards, Helen Dunbar, Edward Mortimer, Leo White, Mrs. Harry L. Davenport, Graham Pettit and Harold Goodwin. Chester Franklin directed the production.

O. A. A. Seeks Game With Dartmouth Team

Telegrams have been received by officials of the University of Utah from Dartmouth college officials asking for a game to be played at either Salt Lake or Ogden during the early part of the present month.

The Dartmouth aggregation is scheduled to play at Portland on Thanksgiving day with the Oregon Argies.

Captain Tommy Fitzpatrick said last night that owing to the fact that the crimson schedule was complete the game would be out of the question.

Representatives of the Ogden Athletic association have communicated with the Dartmouth authorities and it is possible that the game will be played here about November 16, if arrangements are completed.

$1,000 REWARD!

The Democratic State Committee will pay $1000 to any one who can prove that the Democratic Party in this state or nation has ever had anything to do with circulating the report of Prof. Chancellor of Wooster University that Senator Harding is a mulatto or has negro blood.

Chairman William Spry refers to the sending of this report as "political practices," leaving the inference that the Democratic party is responsible. Chairman W. H. Hays blames the Democratic party.

The fact is that the state and national committees have steadfastly refused to have anything to do with this story.

We could not deny it, of course, without having been charged with circulating it.

THIS IS A REPREHENSIBLE ELEVENTH-HOUR ATTEMPT TO MARTYRIZE A CANDIDATE IN WHOSE RECORD THEY HAVE FOUND NOTHING TO PRAISE, BUT WHO HAS BEEN CAREFULLY KEPT IN THE BACKGROUND SO FAR AS ANY CLAIM OF ACHIEVEMENT, PAST, PRESENT OR PROSPECTIVE IS CONCERNED.

The state and national chairmen of the Republican party know that this race question has been debated in Ohio. They know that the negroes of the South have been using it among negro voters in favor of Senator Harding.

They know further that the Democratic campaign committee and candidates have had no knowledge of the matter and have refused even to express an opinion upon it.

Prof. Chancellor sent his report to me several days ago. I have refused to have anything to do with it and our state candidates will tell anyone who desires to inquire that I have not even communicated the contents of this report to them.

Any attempt to show that the Democratic party has given any circulation to this report is totally and absolutely false.

WE PLEAD WITH THE VOTERS OF UTAH NOT TO HAVE THE GREATEST ISSUE SINCE THE CIVIL WAR BEFOGGED BY FALSE AND TRUMPED-UP ISSUES.

THE OUTSTANDING ISSUE IN THIS CAMPAIGN IS THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

SPECTACULAR STUNTS IN ORPHEUM PICTURE

There are sharply marked differences between the wrecking of an airplane bearing a bride and groom in a terrific electric storm and the confused thoughts of a young girl in the mind of an emotional young girl, suffering from shock. Both, however, are depicted in "Trumpet Island," a special production. Kinographed by Vitaphone with an all-star cast. The original story was written by that master of plot, action and expression, Gouverneur Morris and the adaptation edited by Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Oberster. The leading roles are played by Wallace MacDonald and Marguerite de La Motte. Tom Terris directed the notable production.
